Overview

About Jamie Porter

Jamie Porter practices zoning, land use, and municipal law, providing counsel to public and private sector clients on an array of legal issues.

Prior to law school, Jamie obtained a Master of Public Administration (MPA) from the University of Kansas School of Public Affairs and Administration, where he was a City and County Local Government Management Fellow. During that time, Jamie worked extensively in local government and received firsthand experience in city management and municipal finance.

While at the University of Iowa College of Law, Jamie participated in the Moot Court Competition, the Legal Clinic, and the Pro Bono Society.
